

RiskTool Advantage®

RiskTool Advantage, offered exclusively to AIG policyholders, is a robust web-based system providing key tools and applications that can help you identify and reduce health, safety, property, and transportation risk across the workplace. Today, it is used by more than 10,000 of our customers worldwide. The system is modeled on the concept of risk management workflow: What does a risk professional want or need to do? What does a risk professional want to know? How can their activities be stored, tracked, and maintained all in one easy-to-use solution?

How can RiskTool Advantage help your organization?

RiskTool Advantage brings the management of risk to a new level of functionality and ease of use.

Companies small and large use RiskTool Advantage to help identify and mitigate risk, reduce operating costs, increase productivity, and improve bottom line results.

By identifying potential business process risks and taking action to implement best practices before they happen, companies are able to reduce the number of incidents and costs that are associated with them and keep their workplace safer.

What do you want to do today?

RiskTool Advantage simplifies the process whether you are managing risk at one location or across a global enterprise by organizing information and other common work tasks. Its features and functions include:

Assignment Management: If you are an authorized user, you may assign RiskTool Advantage-provided material, modify existing material to suit your organization's needs, or upload materials to the system for use by your colleagues. When assigning items listed, you have the option to assign one or multiple materials to a single person, a group of people, or an entire organization. Assignable items include:

- Inspection checklists
- Best practice assessments
- Policy management
- Training center resources

RiskTool Advantage®

Incident Management: Provides you with the ability to file a claim, track First Report of Injury (FROI), create accident investigations, and manage corrective actions. If you have incidents occurring within the United States, OSHA reports can also be generated.

Management Databases: Track chemical ingredients, chemical products, confined spaces, equipment, fire equipment, and vehicles. A template is provided to easily upload information into the appropriate database.

What do you want to know today?

RiskTool Advantage connects you to health and safety risk guides and regulatory-related information with the click of a mouse. The system's comprehensive library contains hundreds of industry-specific policies, safety programs, procedures, over 125 training videos in English and Spanish, and over 25 training bundle programs, many of them available in Spanish. All are interactively linked to regulatory standards, industry-specific best practices, and guidance materials.

Risk Guides: Provide a general overview of subject matter topics. Guides include an overview, hazard identification, control methods, links to applicable regulatory standards, and supporting guidance and web-links to other applicable government resources. Guides can be used as training materials, reference materials, safety briefs/toolbox talks, or safety committee meeting topics.

Risk Library: A collection of over 10,000 international government and risk management hyperlinks is available for your reference. Information found in the Risk Library could help you find many resources, including subject matter expertise, regulation information, and guidance. Subject areas are also organized by country for easy navigation and include general health and safety, transportation, environmental, emergency management, and property management sections.
